

Elise Is Presidential Finalist

Elise Hoyun Pyun has become the first Andover High student to be a finalist in the nationwide Presidential Scholars Program since it was founded 15 years ago.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Chong Wha Pyun, 6 Gardner Ave., she is one of 1,000 finalists chosen from more than 3 million public and private school seniors.

The field will be narrowed down to 120 Presidential Scholars later this month.

Meanwhile, Elise is awaiting word on another honor — she is also a National Merit Finalist — and she has a big decision to make on her own.

By May 1 she must choose between Harvard, where she would enter a regular four-year, pre-med program, and Boston University, where she has been accepted into the six-year medical program. Her sister Eumi is a freshman at MIT.

At Andover High Elise is copy editor for Imprint, the school newspaper, and a

Old Tyer Rubber Mill Eyed For Elderly Apartments

By Linda S. Corbett

John M. Corcoran Co. of Milton, developers of a variety of residential communities, has the option to buy the old Tyer Rubber Co. mill on Railroad Street, and hopes to recycle it into apartments for the elderly.

While plans are still sketchy, representatives of the firm were to make an informal presentation to members of the board of selectmen and planning board last night.

Leo Corcoran, a partner with his brother

John in the firm, said earlier this week they hope to go before the zoning board of appeals early in June, and then move on to schematic drawings and financing. If all goes smoothly, he said, they could begin "rehabilitation" of the building in the fall, with occupancy next spring or summer at the earliest.

Atty. William Dalton of Andover is representing Corcoran on the local front.

Corcoran said they envision some 170 apartments for low and moderate-income senior citizens, most of them with government-subsidized rentals. The firm is working with Architects Stephen & Bradley of Boston to design it especially as an "elderly building."

Corcoran said they plan to keep the front facade of the building and the distinctive towers at either end. The major changes, he said, would come inside and on the four acres of grounds.

They would build and landscape a large earth berm, or mound, across Railroad Street in the present parking lot. It would be more pleasant to look at than the railroad, Corcoran said, and act as something of a noise buffer as well.

He said the land adjacent to the building would be landscaped with special attention to the needs of the elderly, such as benches for sitting. They would also have "cabbage patches," or small gardens "to putter around in," as in other Corcoran complexes.

Parking for residents and guests would take up another acre at the rear of the building, and Corcoran said they would hope to "open up" a view of the Shawsheen River, which has been largely hidden by overgrowth in recent years.

Inside, he said, the building is "very, very large," more than 200,000 square feet, with lots of room for "community

School Committee Would NOT Offer A Choice

A "not" that did not make it into the lead of last week's school story, inadvertently reversed a decision for the school committee.

The paragraph should have read: "The school committee Tuesday night decided to exert their leadership and NOT present a smorgasbord of building alternatives to town meeting in May."

The committee dropped the possibility of renovating East Jr. High because the state said it wouldn't fund the project, and went on record in favor of a new East Jr. High, as well as scaled down modifications at West Jr. High and the high school. At the high school they would like an auditorium, but not a classroom addition.

They also asked the school building committee to withdraw the options listed in Article 15 of the town warrant, and give the voters only one choice: to save or not to save the present East Jr. High building for other purposes.

Manager Asks Job Reclassifications

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark asked approval of the board of selectmen Tuesday night to regrade and reclassify four job positions in the town government.

The manager of the town's inventory control system will be taking inventory of the town's property for the first time in 12 years, and Clark has asked his salary be raised from $15,751 to $16,539. The inventory control manager is also the town's veteran's agent.

A CETA worker in the assessors office has now received two years of training, Clark said, and ought to have a salary raise to compensate for his added expertise. Clark asked a raise from $11,751 to $12,217.

Added responsibilities of the clerk in the police department, Clark said, now make that position worth $8,569 instead of $8,265.

The final change was a reclassification of the secretary in the department of community development and planning to office manager. The salary for the position remains $10,050.

Stickers To Be Defined

Town manager Jared S. A. Clark will issue a regulation which will establish clearly the privileges allowed by an official town parking sticker.

The stickers or cards are issued to certain town employees and board members so they can park without penalty while they are carrying out official town duties.

Clark said the new regulations will clearly define when these stickers and cards may be used, and so make it easier for police to determine when they are being abused.

Clark said there is no major problem with the abuse of the stickers, and that the new regulation is a formal clarification of the parking privilege.

Selectmen Appointments

Dorothy Sherrerd was reappointed to the Andover Industrial Development Finance Authority at a special meeting of selectmen Tuesday night.

Mrs. Sherrerd will serve as director of the authority through March 31, 1984.

Also approved was the appointment of a temporary replacement for the town accountant. Barbara Botsch will be acting town account-tant from April 17 to April 23 while Wendell Mattheson is on vacation.

Selectman Norma Gammon will attend a meeting of the Merrimack Valley Health Planning Council next Tuesday, to discuss priorities set by the Council for Health Care.

Mrs. Gammon was chosen from among the members of the board because she is the board's liaison with the department of community health.

Philharmonic Adds Art To Sunday Program

The creative photography of Ron Smith of Salem, N.H., will be on display at Sunday's concert of the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra.

The program will begin at 3:30 p.m. at the Salem High School Auditorium, Geremonty Drive, Salem, N.H.

Smith, a well-known photo-illustrator, has received many photographic awards for his creativity in photography and multi-media presentations. He has also been active in college photo lectures.

The orchestra itself will present Overture to Semiramide by Gioacchino Rossini, Serenade No. 1 in D. Major by Johannes Brahms; A Midsummer Night's Dream (incidental music to Shakespeare's play) by Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, and Star Wars Medley by John Williams.

Baritone Santo Cataudella will be the featured soloist for "Di Provenza Il Mar, Il Suol" from La Traviata by Giuseppe Verdi; "Chanson du Toreador" from Carmen by Georges Bizet, and "Some Enchanted Evening" from South Pacific by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

The song of the humpback whale is the loudest, longest and slowest in nature. Air shuttling within the whale's head causes the sounds; no air is expelled. The whale is usually alone and inactive when it sings, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

"Come Blow Your Horn" Delayed

Andover Community Theater has announced that, due to technical problems, its production of "Come Blow Your Horn" will not be presented on April 27 and 28. However, May 4 and 5 performances will be presented as originally scheduled at West Elementary School, at 8:15 p.m.

All tickets will be honored on May 4 and 5.

Shannon's Mobile Office Due Saturday

Congressman James M. Shannon's Mobile Office will visit Andover Saturday.

The Mobile Office, which will travel the 24 communities of the Fifth Congressional District on a six-week rotation throughout the year, will be parked at Town Hall from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Mobile Office is designed to supplement the services available to 5th District residents through the main office in Lowell at 352 Merrimack St. and the Lawrence office at 11 Lawrence St. It is one facet of the Shannon Outreach program which also includes Open Forum Town Meetings in every community, Elderly Outreach visits, and special events or conferences.

Shannon has expressed his hope that constituents will take advantage of the services of the Mobile Office.

"Staff people will be available to provide assistance as necessary in dealing with governmental agencies. 'I hope,' the Congressman continued, "that citizens will utilize the Mobile Office, not only when they require such assistance, but also when they wish to discuss issues of concern or to communicate their views.

New ABC Students Need Host Families

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 19, 1979

Many residents know about the Andover ABC (A Better Chance) students who come from urban and rural backgrounds to take advantage of an Andover High education — and live in the three-story gray house at the corner of Main and Morton Streets.

These teenagers from minority groups benefit from the academic program, and in turn contribute to Andover High organizations and to the community.

What many residents don't know is the interchange the students have with local families who invite them into their family circles and provide caring and sharing on an on-going basis.

A host family invites a particular student each week for Wednesday supper, plus one weekend a month and some school vacations. The ABC student is more than a "guest;" he or she is part of the family and in contact with them at times other than regularly scheduled visits. While families often plan special events for their time together, an important part is simply participation in the normal routine of Andover family life.

The usual host family commitment is for the three years that a student spends in the community.

Of the 11 students currently in the ABC program, six will be graduating this year. The incoming sophomores who replace them, to start on their own way toward entry into college programs, will be assigned to new host families.

Prospective host families do not have to have teenagers in the home nor non-working mothers. Single parent families are also welcomed. Though the involvement of host parents in the individual student's academic progress is helpful, schoolwork is not a responsibility of host families and a knowledge of high school subjects, though useful, is not required.

The main need of a host family is flexibility in handling usual teenage problems, and ability to provide support for a student encountering a new living and academic situation.

The students have been recommended to the ABC program by their own school authorities, screened by National ABC, and chosen by the Andover ABC selection committee for their intellectual and social potential.

Any families interested in hosting a student beginning in September, are asked to call Roger Wiehe, 103 Salem St., ABC host family coordinator, or Margot Bixby, 17 Stinson Road, vice-president.

Save Music Program

Dear Fellow Elementary Orchestra and Band Parents:

To comply with any of the tax cap proposals now pending in the state legislature, some areas of the school budget will have to be cut. With the 4 percent tax cap we are still in danger of the school administration eliminating the elementary instrumental band program and the entire string program.

For parents, the stake in music education can be seen as a stake in young peoples' future. I feel an education cannot be complete without exposure to music, whether playing or listening to others perform. You can voice your opinion by attending the School Committee Meeting April 24, 7:30 p.m., at West Junior High School.

We need you to back our presentation concerning the values mentioned above. Letters written to the School Committee urging them to implement the tax cap on a just and equitable basis will be most helpful.

Good Youths Go Unheralded

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

In recent weeks I have read much about the vandalism in Andover at the Phillip's Boat House and Memorial Hall Library. The malicious few are still receiving the predominant attention of the press.

Unfortunately, the terrific activities that many of our youth engage in go unheralded. On a recent weekend I was extremely proud of Andover's youth from 10 through 19. On Friday of that weekend the Andover High School Stage Band played at the Internal Revenue for the installation of its new director, Joseph Cloonan. Their lively music was greatly enjoyed by everyone who attended that occasion, and all of the "Andoverites" were bursting with pride as everyone in the Center commented on their tremendous performance.

That same weekend many students of Andover High's choral, drama and band groups presented "The Boyfriend" and gave a super performance for four evenings. This great production took many hours of diligent practice before it was presented to the public. Those who attended were given a delightful evening of entertainment at a very reasonable price. However, it was sad to see that the people of Andover didn't care to support their efforts as they should have — it should have been a sell-out every night, but wasn't. Community pride???

Sunday of that weekend I saw hordes of youth from grades four through 12 start a 20 mile walk for F.A.S.T. in cold and drizzly weather. Amazingly, most of them finished and raised a large sum of money for their less fortunate needy brothers in this world. Many of the same people were involved in more than one of these activities. Those who participated in the walk gave at least three days of their time, one to solicit pledges, one to walk 20 miles — no small feat — and one to collect pledges and proudly turn their money in to accomplish the goal for which it was intended.

Where was the press coverage for these events? Sadly lacking! I have been involved with young people of this community for the past six years through schools, various church organizations and my children's friends. I find them a most enjoyable and commendable group of people who give unselfishly of themselves to the community of Andover.

I know it is necessary to inform people of destruction and vandalism so they may take precautions to protect their property, but please, couldn't you try more front page (or even inside page) coverage of the many positive things they do for this community?

What's The Big Deal About Running??

After being indoors for so many months, the warm air and sunlight of spring is a welcome excuse to be outside. It's time when those who are sports-minded get into shape. Memorial Hall Library can help you with books on running and how to get your body into condition, including handouts of Sue Luby's latest conditioning exercises prepared for the Andover High School track team.

National Book Awards

The winners of this year's National Book Awards will be announced on April 23. In anticipation of the event, Memorial Hall Library has on display books which have been nominated for the honor in each category — fiction, biography, contemporary thought, history, poetry and translation.

Speedreading Course

It's not too late to register for the next session of Speedreading at Memorial Hall Library to be conducted by Sanborn & Simmons on Tuesday evenings starting April 24. The class will meet for six consecutive Tuesday evenings through May 29 between 7 and 9 p.m. and the cost will be $45. Registration will be taken at the Circulation Desk or by calling 475-6960.

Great Books Discussion

The Great Books Discussion Group will meet on Tuesday, April 24 at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library under the leadership of Robert Rockwell. "Traps," a short story by Swiss novelist, Friedrich Duerrenmatt, will be discussed. This is the last session of the spring series on "Becoming Human."

Children's Room News By Bridget Bennett

Vacation week programs in the Children's room continue on Thursday afternoon (April 19) with a visit by State Trooper Bill Hickey who will be here to talk about the work of the State Police. Trooper Hickey will also be giving a fingerprinting demonstration and answering questions about crime prevention. Children from 8 to 12 will be welcome to attend the program which will begin at 2 p.m.

Friday afternoon (April 20) from 2 to 3:30 p.m. three workshops for children ages 6 to 12 will be held. These will be "Disguise Yourself", "Writing in Secret Codes", and "Invisible Ink Making". The workshops are designed to introduce children to the art and fun of being an amateur detective and throughout the week we are featuring mystery and detective stories for vacation reading.

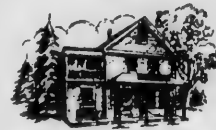

Spring programs for preschoolers will resume next week with our regular meetings of Littlest Listeners on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. On Thursday, at 7 p.m., our evening drop-in story hour for preschoolers called Pajama Party will be meeting again, and on Friday we will have our usual film programs at 10:30 a.m. and at 2 p.m.

House Plants

House plants do not use more oxygen at night than during the day. The leaf pores are closed at night, and gas exchange is reduced, Massachusetts Audubon says. Humidity may increase at night which triggers some plants to release fragrant oils.

THIS Is The Way To Go!

The profit motive is traditionally the backbone of American enterprise. Accordingly, in the food catering business the public has become inured to portion control and pre-cooked or prepared foods with the rosy attendant promises of savings.

Is this the way to go?

We, at Towne Deli, think not. Certainly we are in business to make a profit but not to the extent of getting on the big board. Accordingly we employ a full time cook who does all our baking on the premises. Our portions are generous. Our home-made pies, soups and puddings appeal because of the extra touches. For instance, our apple pies are baked with fresh apples . . . unusual today, you will agree.

Our meats, as we said last week, are quality selected and we shop for them. Our lunches and dinners delight the palate and you leave Towne Deli sated without delving into the cash reserves.

Towne Deli . . . associate it with plenty of good food, pleasant surroundings and cheerful personnel plus reasonable prices. Put us to the test!

Building Fees Due For Hike

Fees for permits issued by the Department of Community Development and Planning will probably be going up soon. During their Tuesday night conference session, the board of selectmen appeared willing to vote in favor of the fee increases at their next regular meetings.

Town manager Jared S. A. Clark proposed the increases to make the fees more accurately reflect the actual cost of issuing them.

He said fees for permits which ordinary homeowners might need for home repairs would not be increased greatly. The advice the homeowner gets from inspectors is expensive, Clark said, but ought to be provided to taxpayers at a minimal cost. He said he viewed this as a service provided by the town, and the selectmen agreed.

The permit fees which will be significantly increased will be commercial permits and permits associated with new homes.

For example, the proposed fee for filing for a gravel permit is $250. That would cover the cost of several days' study of the application and on-site inspections. The application would still have to face public hearing before the board of selectmen.

Other fee hikes were proposed for electrical and plumbing permits, swimming pools and use of the community ambulance.

Kear said his department raised about $77,000 in fees for fiscal year 1978. Already in fiscal year 1979 the fee total is more than $100,000 and is projected to reach $125,000.

Judge McNaught: Man of Many Interests

15 THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 19, 1979

By Tim Greene

One of the most recent additions to the bench of federal district court in Boston is also a recently arrived resident of Andover.

Last November John J. McNaught moved to town and was recommended to President Jimmy Carter for a federal judgeship by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy. His qualifications were reviewed by the Senate judiciary committee and his appointment was approved by the Senate. He was sworn in with four other federal judges March 30, during a ceremony in Faneuil Hall, Boston.

He now lives at 66 River Road with his wife, commutes to Boston every weekday, arriving at his chambers in the Post Office Building in Government Center around 8:30 a.m.

"I find that's a good time for studying," he said. The day in court begins at 10 a.m. and runs until 4 p.m. with an hour from 1 to 2 p.m. for lunch. From 4 to 5 p.m. he said he usually attends to his correspondence or reviews matters under advisement. Then he goes home.

"A judge simply cannot do all his or her work at the office," he said. That is why he is setting up an office in his home and why he may spend 10 hours of his weekend working on legal matters.

His studying even carries over into his vacations. Once, at his family cottage in New Hampshire, he wrote an article on a new death statute. Usually, though, he said, he just swims in a lake near the cottage, works at building fieldstone walls and does some cabinet work.

He said he has not freshwater fished recently, but wants to get back to it when he can.

Beside fishing, McNaught has several other hobbies. "I've always had a hobby of photography," he said. "I fooled around a lot with it as a kid." He said he had his own dark room where he did his own black and white printing until a few years ago.

But he gave away the equipment when he found he did not have enough time to use it. Now he just shoots snapshots.

McNaught said he was an amateur cartoonist and painter when his children were young. He used to draw them cartoons to entertain them, and every year he painted a Christmas scene on a three by six foot mirror he owned. He said he tried the idea one year and his children liked it so, it became a family tradition.

He said he worked on the mirror paintings each year starting at Thanksgiving, spending about 20 minutes a night until they were finished. Over the years he did a Santa, a nativity and several Currier and Ives scenes. He said he does not paint any more.

Recently he has a new interest: disco dancing. He does not disco himself, but he said he admires the skillfulness of some disco dancers. "It almost approaches the way we used to do the fox trot and sambas," he said, "That really is very graceful dancing."

His musical interests extend to the organ, which he plays by ear "just for myself." He may like disco, "but the music I play is all Lawrence Welk."

In addition to his work as a judge and his hobbies, McNaught is a teacher. He teaches a course in trial practice at Boston University Law School, and a course on admissible evidence and hearsay at the National Judicial College of the American Bar Association, taught at the University of Nevada.

Born in Malden, McNaught went to Malden Catholic High School where he was a football quarterback, right wing on the hockey team and a "good field, no hit" second baseman on the baseball team.

In 1943 he joined the army and was trained as a medic and assigned to the transportation corps. He became a hospital train commander and scheduled the transfer of wounded to medical facilities which could handle the treatment of their wounds.

After the war, he attended Boston College, graduating in 1946, and Boston College Law School, graduating in 1949. For four years he clerked for Judge William McCarthy of the federal district court. In 1954 he joined a Federal Street law firm which, when he left it for the bench in superior court, was called Esdaile, McNaught, Driscoll and Bennett.

He has three sons, Gerard, of Andover, Steven and John Jr., and 10 grandchildren.

He said if he were to advise a high school student interested in a career in law, he would suggest participation in athletics, debating and dramatics and as many extracurricular activities as possible.

While in college, McNaught was a member of the drama society, editor of the classics magazine, and winner of an award for oratory two of three years he was eligible to compete for it.

The debating and dramatics would be for "learning how to conduct yourself in public" he said. And he suggested learning to write clearly and persuasively. Athletics offer a special kind of training. "Teamwork," he said, "that's the most important thing, really and truly."

The Elm Family

Here's what various Elm leaves look like, complete with flowers and fruit which appears in the fall.

It's Time To Protect Elms

Do you have an elm tree on your property? Or any of the Town's 1800 roadside elms shading your property?

Now is the time to consider protecting those trees from the dreaded Dutch elm disease, says the Andover Garden Club.

Since it is possible for a tree to be infected with this disease for one or more seasons without showing visible symptoms, it is very important to begin a preventative program. James Bamford, Andover's Tree Warden will begin a pilot program of injecting 14 Elm trees.

The recommended procedure is to annually inject the chemical Lignasan BLP (fungicide registered by EPA) to prevent the disease from infecting the tree. Lignasan is a preventative, not a cure for Dutch Elm disease.

The elm injection equipment has been purchased by the Andover Garden Club. Last year 18 town citizens used it, and it is hoped that more will do so this season. The use of this equipment is offered to any resident of the town by calling Mrs. Norman Frost on Lowell Street.

Sorority Celebrates Anniversary

The three Andover Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, Beta Mu, Xi Sigma and Preceptor Zeta will celebrate the 48th anniversary of the organization at Founder's Day, April 25 at the Lanam Club.

A social hour at 6:30 p.m. will be followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m.

They join members in 12,000 chapters all over the world in marking the birthday of this social, cultural and service organization for women.

Mrs. Shirley Belisle is chairman of the local observance. Entertainment will be provided by Gary Chabot, local magician and toastmistress will be Mrs. Ruther Farrington, president of Xi Sigma Chapter, who has been selected to present a special message from the national president. Vice-presidents of each chapter will present highlights of the year in review. Annual awards of the Sorority will be presented for Valentine Queen and Girl of the Year.

The keynote of Beta Sigma Phi, which nonpolitical and non-sectarian and not connected with any schools, is friendship. Each chapter adapts its program of civic,

There are more than 25 trillion red cells in your blood stream which carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs to your tissues, and then return the waste gas to be cleansed by the lungs. "Plant a plot free."

(from A to Z)

From Artichokes to Zucchini, some 2000 customers have harvested food and fun from our free garden plots. Available now for the 4th season.

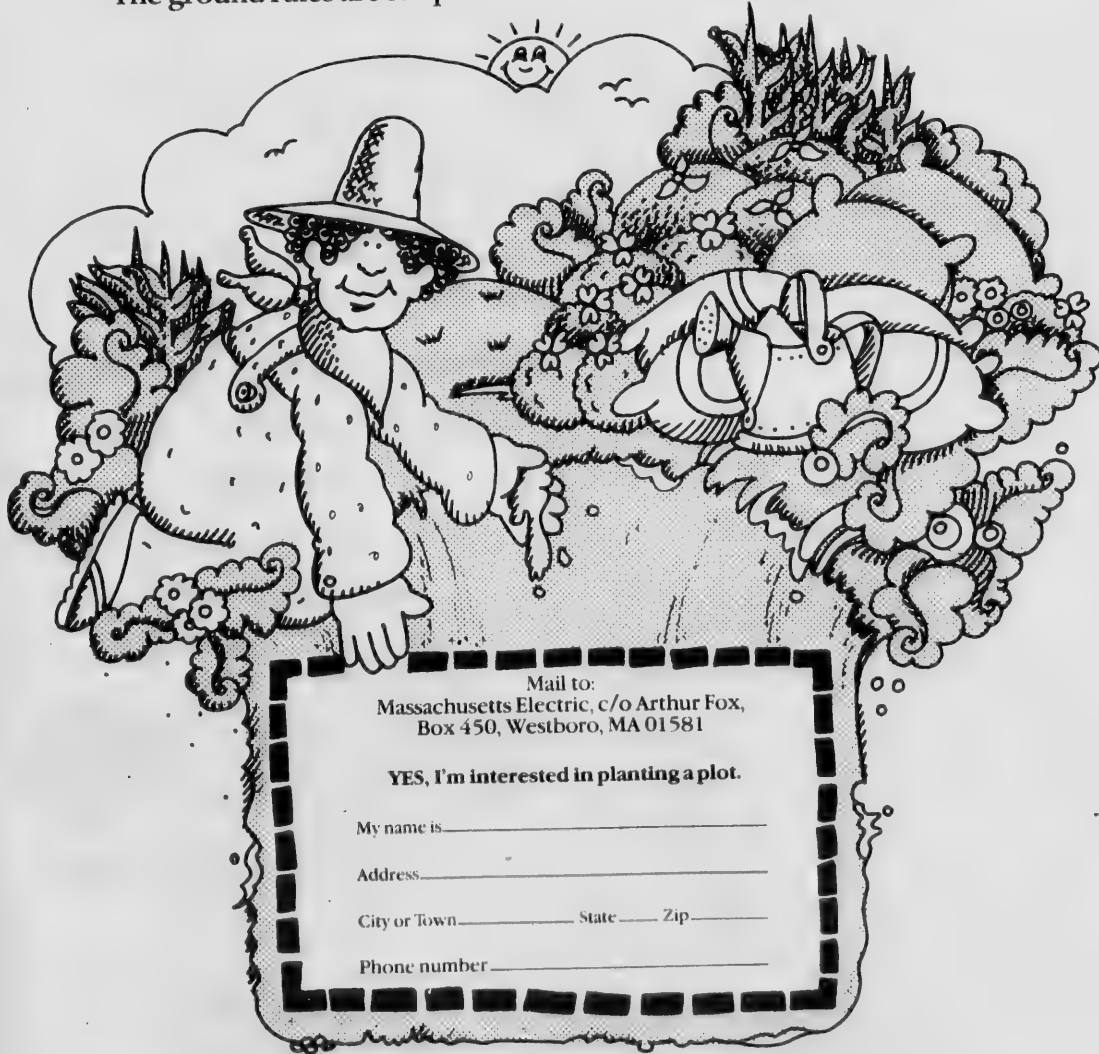

Four years ago, offering our ground to people to garden was just a seedling of an idea. But wow how it has blossomed.

A garden is no snap (beans or otherwise)! But what a nature-loving way to eat fresh vegetables, save money, and have fun doing it.

The ground rules are simple. We do the plowing and harrowing, and stake out plots up to 1000 sq. ft. (There's water handy to most.) You sow, hoe, fertilize and harvest. Work out a co-op arrangement with friends if you like.

Each gardener will receive our "Plant a Plot" kit including how-to booklet, seed catalog and radish seeds. Available land is limited. Based on past years' experience, the plots will go fast. Call our office to find out what's available. Or send in the coupon. Happy gardening.

Spring Courses For Women At YWCA

19 THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 19, 1979

The Greater Lawrence YWCA Women's Resource Center has diverse spring programs planned for the women of the community.

Self-Defense For Women is offered Monday nights, April 23 to May 21, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. This introductory course will explore modified karate techniques that can be employed by women of all ages. The focus of self-defense is to use minimum force to stop an attack. Agenda for the course will include warm-up and release techniques and practice sessions on simulated attacks. The program is designed to increase one's self-confidence, awareness and develop individual potential. Larry Giordano, of the School of the Tiger Dojo, Women's Self-defense and Karate Association is coordinating.

How To Tell Your Children is offered Wednesday nights, April 25 to May 9, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. This three-part series will help parents communicate more effectively with their children about sex. Discussion will include adolescent social and physical development, awareness of your own sexuality, permission to be embarrassed and suggestions on how to get your ideas across. Teri Stone, teen counselor for Family Planning, Inc. will facilitate.

Assertiveness Training is offered Thursday nights starting April 26 for eight weeks, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. This course is designed to build self-confidence and increase effective communication with others through awareness development. Two vital components of this program are 1) an overview of the issues concerning assertiveness and 2) the flexibility to respond to the needs of the participating women. Lucille Leonard, MSW, ACSW will facilitate.

Red Cross C.P.R. Course is offered Tuesday and Thursday nights, May 1, 3, 8, and 10, from 7 to 9:30 p.m., at the United Fund Building, 430 Canal St. The course is free, but a donation is required for books and materials. This course consists of a film, a lecture, practice, and testing. Certificates will be awarded to those who pass the course.

The Women's Resource Center will continue its Women's History Series with Women Of The World on Wednesday nights, May 16 to May 30, from 7 to 9 p.m. This program includes: Women In China, Women Of The Soviet Union and Indian Women.

The Chinese marriage law of 1950 was the equivalent of our E.R.A. It gave women equal legal rights with men and freed them from thousands of years of second class citizenship. The status of women in the Soviet Union has changed many times since the Revolution of 1917 granted them full equality. Soviet women have made tremendous strides toward equality. Since India's independence in 1949 the long tradition of women's inferior status has been challenged by law and by women's greater involvement in public life and work outside the home. Why then is emancipation for women still largely reserved for the most privileged?

The coordinator for the Women's History series is Caroline Bridgeman Rees, historian and teacher. All classes must be pre-registered.

Ducks

The duck's name comes from the Middle English word, duke, meaning a diving bird. Goose derives from the Old English word, gos, and swan probably comes from the Latin, sonus, meaning sound, referring to the tumultuous call of some swans, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Planning For Museum Show

Local residents making plans for the Museum of Fine Arts' fourth Annual "Art in Bloom" celebration to be held at the Museum May 8 to 10 are left to right: Anne C. Lange of the Andover Garden Club; Mrs. Dana S. Thompson of the North Andover Garden Club and Mrs. Robert L.V. French of Andover, a member of the Ladies Committee of the Museum of Fine Arts and chairman of the garden clubs for "Art in Bloom."

Preparing Art In Bloom

May brings flowers to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, with the fourth annual "Art in Bloom," festival of art and flowers May 8 to 10.

The "Art in Bloom" celebration stages the setting for more than 65 Massachusetts garden clubs to design floral arrangements to complement great works of art from the Museum's collections of paintings, sculpture and furniture.

It is the only fundraising event organized each year by members of the Museum's volunteer Ladies' Committee. It will feature three days of gallery tours, slide lectures, daily luncheons and fashion shows, flower arranging demonstrations, and afternoon teas with music played by students of the New England Conservatory.

A Gallery Garden Party, accompanied by the lively dance music of The Ice House Five Plus Two Jazz Band, will be the closing festivity for "Art in Bloom," Thursday.

History Of Dance Featured

This year's Northern Essex College Dance Club Production will trace dance from its humble birth in the jungle, with man attempting to imitate the elements to appease the gods, to our present day pulsating, splashy Disco.

The dance story is punctuated with body sculpture, which requires the strength of an athlete and the fluidity of a snake. There's a dance interpretation of the play 'Rhinoceros,' and the tale of the 'Black Widow Spider' (after mating, the female kills and devours her mate), a truly beautiful display of control and expression.

'Passages' is a student-choreographed number depicting the passages that one transcends through life's course. Gershwin's 'Concerto in F' is a showcase presentation of the depth and talent of the dancers and their choreographer. The 'Soul Story' segment will trace jazz from its primitive beginnings to a present day rendition of Ramsey Lewis's 'Sun Goddess.'

The curtain will come down on the frenzied 20th century phenomenon known as Disco. The audience will be invited to join in the finale and show off their own intricate moves.

The production will be presented in the

Jewelry To Jars

The Egyptians are credited with inventing manmade glass around 3,000 B.C. And although by the "boy king's reign (about 1335 B.C.), the use of glass was limited mainly to the creation of jewelry and ornaments, a technique had been developed to produce glass bottles. Those who could afford them — primarily the ruling class and priests — considered the glass jars, jugs and ointment cases as valuable as their jewels.

Mill An Andover Landmark

The old Tyer Rubber Co. mill has been vacant for a couple of years now, but the building has been a landmark in Andover for nearly 70 years, and at one time more than 1000 people worked there.

The company itself dates back to the mid 19th century and an English immigrant, Henry George Tyer, who began inventing and developing in the then new field of rubber.

He first organized the North American Patent Shoe Co. in Ballardvale and then in 1856, in partnership with George Boise, began producing the "Compo" shoe in a building on North Main Street. They used a rubber adhesive to stick the tops and bottoms together.

As the number of products increased, the Tyer Rubber Co. formed, with Tyer as president. In 1912 they went "public" and the large modern mill, now being considered for senior citizen housing apartments, was built. They manufactured automobile tires and inner tubes there until 1922, when they changed over to rubber footwear.

Tyer was one of the first to make inflatable bladders for footballs and rubber centers for baseballs and golf balls, and developed the "hot cure" method of making inflatable rubber pontoons and reconnaissance boats during World War II. Thousands of the pontoons and boats were produced at Tyer, adding an important contribution to V-E and V-J Days.

The company in recent years concentrated on canvas and rubber footwear and rubber rollers for industry, but also made skating scabbards and hockey pucks, sponge insoles and sporting clothing, such as hit waders for fishermen.

Converse bought Tyer in 1961, and continued to operate until March of 1977, when they closed down the sneaker operation and largely moved out of the building.

In June, 1978, a group of seven employees bought the roller operation in the smaller building north of the old mill, and continued to operate there, with Arthur Ermer of Andover as president and treasurer.

They also purchased the old mill building itself, now under option with the Corcoran Co. of Milton for "recycling" into apartments.

Tyer Mill

space" in addition to the apartment units. There would be a number of lounges, as well as other rooms for reading, arts and crafts, sewing, games and functions.

"As we see it now," Corcoran said, 90 percent of the units would be one bedroom, fully equipped with wall-to-wall carpeting, air conditioning, and efficiency-type kitchens with dishwashers and disposers. The remainder of the units would be two-bedroom.

They would set aside 5 percent of the apartments for the handicapped tenants, providing non-slip carpeting, special counters that allow wheelchair access and extra grab bars and a sitting area in the bathroom.

Corcoran said he feels the location is "superb" for the elderly, near downtown and shopping, and that the project would serve a dual purpose: to recycle a building that will likely never be used again for industry, thus revitalizing an area near the center, and to fulfill a need for additional senior citizen housing. He said there are long waiting lists at elderly housing developments, and that as the cost of maintaining a home continues to rise in Andover, as elsewhere, for retired persons on fixed incomes there will be "more and more need."

He said he hadn't yet met anyone with a negative reaction to the project, and called it was "sort of what the doctor ordered."

He said single persons, whose income does not exceed $9,400 would be eligible for the subsidized apartments, or couples whose combined income did not exceed $10,750. He said they would be required to pay 25 percent of the incomes toward the rent, with the government picking up the balance.

He said he expected rent for a one-bedroom apartments to be in the area of $406 a month, and a two-bedroom unit, $482, utilities included.

A couple with the maximum income then, would pay 25 percent for rent: about $225 a month, with the government program paying $175.

The Corcoran Co. will also continue to own and run the building, with a live-in manager on the premises.

The Corcoran got into the real estate business about 29 years ago, first as a brokerage firm, then in home building and development. Corcoran said the apartment boom about 15 years ago was "a natural for us," and they now own and manage outright some 2500 to 3000 units throughout Massachusetts, including the "Commons" apartments, such as Shrewsbury Commons, Beverly Commons, Weymouth Commons and Quincy Commons.

They more recently have gotten into the area of subsidized housing and "rehabilitation" of old buildings, and are now reclaiming the Academy Building in Fall River. One of that city's most history buildings, it will have residential units on the upper floor, with the lower floor reserved for retail businesses, along the lines of the Quincy Market. A central theatre is being demolished, and that area will become a courtyard and park.

The newer, smaller building to the north of the old mill will remain in the hands of Tyer Industries Inc., owned by a group of former Tyer Division employees, headed by Arthur Ermer of Andover. They manufacture rubber coverings for rolls used primarily by the printing and textile industries.

Dance Recital At P.A.

A Phillips Academy dance recital on Saturday evening, repeated on Sunday afternoon, will present the choreography and dancing of 24 PA students of ballet instructor Cristina Rubio and modern dance instructor Carolyn Brecher.

The public is invited with charge to both performances, on the George Washington

Hall main stage: Saturday at 7 p.m. or the matinee performance Sunday at 2 p.m.

The hour-long performance will consist of 15 short dances, some modern, some more classical. They range from solos and duets to group dances of up to eight boys and girls, set to the music of Chopin, Prokofiev, Ravel, Stravinsky and other composers, mostly modern. All the dancing is choreographed by students under the supervision of their dance instructors.

Lenk Is Merit Scholar

Robert J. Lenk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer N. Lenk of 3 Phaeton Circle, and a senior at Andover High has been named winner of a National Merit Scholarship, sponsored by the Western Electric Company.

News of the award came within days of his acceptance at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he plans to major in physics beginning in the fall.

Lenk, won the prestigious Harvard Book Prize as outstanding junior last year, as well as the Cornell Math and Science Award, the Rensselaer Math and Science Award and the American Legion Award. He won the Mathematical Association of America Award in 1977. He's a member of the National Honor Society and the Math Club, and has been involved in the business end of the year book and spring track.

Lenk was one of 1450 seniors chosen to receive the corporate-sponsored, four-year Merit Scholarships, which carry with them a maximum of $1500 a year.

Still to come are announcements of the college-sponsored Merit Scholarships and the $1000 National Merit Scholarships sponsored by the National Merit Foundation itself.

Lenk was one of seven Andover residents named semi-finalists in the competition last year, from among more than a million who competed via the 1977 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT).

Also finalists are Dianne Clendaniel, Russell C. Serbagi, Jess Parks and Elise Pyun at Andover High, Carolyn Katz at Phillips Academy and Adrea Paradis at St. Mary's in Lawrence.

Six residents of Kirkland Drive, whose basements are periodically flooded now, are concerned that the development of the old Andover Country Club property would worsen their problems.

Spokesman for the residents, Samuel St. Angelo, told selectmen Tuesday night, "We feel we've got enough problems on Kirkland now and that development of homes would only aggravate problems."

Gail Griffin of 30 Kirkland Drive, said that when she bought her home 14 years ago, her property, including her basement, was dry. She said her father, a water works employee for more than 40 years, said that the area did not at that time seem like it should have drainage problems.

Four years ago, a test drilling in her basement found only dry earth a foot below her house's foundation. Last winter, a similar test revealed running water two inches below the basement floor.

Selectman Susan T. Poore suggested that the development of an area can change the amount of water that an area can absorb into the ground, and perhaps that is what happened on Kirkland Drive.

Selectman Lawrence Sullivan said the suddenness of the problem seemed to indicate a water main break and asked if the department of public works had looked into it.

Town manager Jared S. A. Clark said the DPW is looking into the matter. He said he had invited the residents of Kirkland to the meeting, to keep the selectmen informed of problems in the area of the proposed development.

Selectman James Abramson pointed out that the immediate problem in the area is being looked into, and that studies on what the effects of a development in that area will have on drainage have yet to be made.

Mrs. Poore suggested that the Kirkland residents attend public meetings at which the development is discussed, and make their problem known.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark told selectmen Tuesday night that the former owners of the Andover Country Club offered the club's golf course to the town for $2.5 million about two years ago, but that the town could not even consider buying the course for such a price.

The former owners of the course turned down other offers to buy the club because the prospective buyers said they would not preserve the course, Clark said.

Apparently Yvon Cormier, the current owner, will try to keep the course running. A representative of Cormier said last week that Cormier plans, at least for the moment, to keep the course open.

The first section of the old country club property planned for development runs from Canterbury Street and Beacon Street, said Rhys Kear, director of community development and planning. This

Morrissey Sworn In

Edward J. Morrissey, third from left, is sworn in last Thursday as Andover's postmaster. A 36-year veteran of the postal service — he first worked part-time while a student at Pynchard High — he is joined here by his wife, Janet and

School Hearing Tuesday

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert says he's had his eye on the Boston Garden, but has settled for West Jr. High Auditorium for Tuesday night's public meeting on the school budget.

The topic will appear as part of the regular school committee meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., and will be an opportunity for parents and others to voice their opinions about programs that might be cut in order to get down to a four percent tax cap budget.

The school committee has expressed its hope that town meeting will override the cap and give them the 8.2 percent budget they recommend. However, they are seeking public input to help them make decisions on cuts, should they become necessary.

An Easter Parade

Local churches drew capacity crowds Sunday, despite un-springlike weather. Among the Easter-goers were, clockwise beginning upper left: Mrs. Robert Rosadini and Steven, 17 months, at Christ Church; Mr. and Mrs. Frank McNeice and Paul, 1, and Patricia, 4, at St. Augustine's; The Fredric Lowrie's and Allison, 19 months, with friends from Baltimore, Md., the Dick Reid's and Richard, 14 months, at Christ Church; Greg Robinson, 3, and sister Beth, 6, at Christ Church; Sarah Scott with Kim, 6, and Christopher, 12, and the Ralph Hanson's with Deborah, 9, at Christ Church, and the Bill Hendersons with Billy, 6, and Jodie, 9, at St. Augustine's.

Time To Be More Neighborly

A few weeks ago Andover selectmen discussed at length a request from North Reading officials to supply water to the neighboring town for an extended period of time.

At the end of considerable discussion, Andover decided to continue supplying North Reading for the next four months and to study the possibility of the extended period.

Rather than the study, it would seem more in line to assure North Reading that we will supply them with their water needs, until such time as they can come up with a permanent solution.

Andover officials have constantly been concerned about supplying water to neighboring communities. Each time a valve is turned on for a neighbor, the selectmen, as water commissioners, are to be notified immediately. A few years ago Andover and Tewksbury wound up in some rather unpleasant circumstances when a valve was turned by mistake and we billed our neighbor a preposterous amount.

The North Reading situation seems apparent.

The town does not have adequate supply and its wells have been hit by pollutants. They are currently drawing less than half million gallons per day to satisfy immediate needs.

Furthermore, they have no place to turn. A proposed extension of the Metropolitan District Commission lines is not about to happen very soon.

Andover, with its treatment plant built through federal and state funding, can produce up to 12,000,000 gallons daily. Since the plant has been in operation, the peak amount produced was 9,000,000 gallons, during a summer heat wave when Andover was assisting Methuen and Lawrence as well as North Reading.

Selectmen express concern about what would happen if other nearby towns have problems and turn to Andover for help.

Frankly, if that happens, then further decisions will have to be made.

They wonder about possible funding for expansion of the plant and about receiving tax credits for aiding other towns.

All of this comes as North Reading officials seek some relief to what is going to be a continuing problem. They are interested in obtaining some assurance that they could continue to draw from Andover lines and its adequate supply.

It is fairly obvious that Andover's treatment plant is their only source, and, the price North Reading pays isn't what could be termed a bargain rate.

Thus it would seem that it is just a good, neighborly thing to do to give North Reading the assurance they desire, and forget about extensive studies until such time as Andover is faced with additional problems.

Such consideration is based on the fact that there well may be time when we need assistance from North Reading.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — April, 1904

The Punchard baseball team will play their annual game with the alumni next Tuesday.

On next Friday Herrmann the Great will appear in the town hall for an entertainment of magic, the fame of which Herrmann bears is enough guarantee for the quality of the show and no one will be sorry for having seen him perform. He will be assisted by a company of special acts. The tickets are 75 cents.

The wheels are again in motion for the annual May breakfast and the ladies have begun the work for this happy annual feast. This year as the first day of May comes on Sunday, the breakfast will be held on the previous morning, Saturday, and it will be held in the town hall as usual. The town will be canvassed for supplies of food or money by the ladies and it is their desire that the people will be as liberal this year as they have been in the past.

F. E. Dodge has been building the chimneys on the building owned by H. W. Barnard and occupied by J. P. Wakefield.

At a meeting of the Abbot Village Society held in Abbot village hall last evening, David Beatty and son were awarded the contract to furnish coal this year, they being the lowest bidders.

50 Years Ago — April, 1929

A gorgeous April day, such a one as would have done credit to June, lent the finishing touch to Andover's first community Easter egg hunt, which was held in the park Saturday afternoon and was participated in by more than a thousand children.

A public whist party will be conducted at the home of Mrs. Edward C. Cole, 45 Abbot St. next Saturday evening, April 14. The proceeds of the affair will go toward the benefit of the Jovial club. Whist will start at 8 o'clock.

Lester C. Newton of Phillips Academy has written a review of "Nachlese," a book of modern German short stories which appears in the March number of the "Modern Language Journal."

Farms Are Lost

In the last 10 years, 31 million acres of U.S. farm land have been converted to highways, shopping centers, and developments. Massachusetts Audubon points out that the land lost to farming is about three-quarters as much as New England's total area of 40,445,440 acres. Some states save farm land by buying development rights from farmers, which allows farmers to work the land but not to sell it for development.

AHS Tracksters Open Season With Wins

39 THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 19, 1979

The Andover High School Boy's and Girl's Track Teams opened their seasons last week with impressive victories over Wilmington.

The boys, led by double winners Paul Farnham, Bob Surret and Noel Bizarro, won their opener by the score of 117½ to 27½. An impressive 440 Relay win of :44.9 turned in by Farnham, Mel Berger, Bob Wilkins and Pizarro featured the victory.

The Andover girls also won a decisive opening meet, beating Wilmington 102-16. Double wins by Sue Messersmith and Bonnie Daley highlighted this triumph.

In an invitational meet at Wilmington on April 14, with 20 schools competing, Bob Wilkins and Kip Jones were outstanding with a one-two finish in the high jump at 6'2" and 6'1" respectively. Grant Davies and Steve Rosen also finished second and third in the discus in this meet and Noel Pizarro took a fourth in the shot put. Because of rainy conditions and the early season, Andover did not send its full team to this invitational, competing in only four events.

On Saturday, April 21 at 2 p.m. the Andover girls will meet Phillips Academy at the Eugene V. Lovely Field. On the same day, individuals on the boy's team, but not the full squad, will be competing in the Haverhill Invitational. In vital dual meet competition next week, the Andover girls will host Methuen girls Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday, the boys will travel to Methuen, also at 3:15 p.m.

Bantam B's Win Semi-Finals

The Bantam B. hockey team defeated Somerville to earn a place in the finals. They will play the winner of the Everett vs. East Boston Game. The final play-off game will be played tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the Danvers Twin-Rinks on Rt. 114.

During the past four weeks the Bantams have been hot and cold, winning two and losing two.

Andover 6, Danvers 5

With Barry Moore guarding the net, the Bantams took a 3-2 lead in the first period. Bryan Curley scored an unassisted goal, as his high centering pass from the left corner deflected off a Danvers defender and past a startled goalie. Less than a minute later, Frank DePiano scored the first of his four goals on a neat pass from Eddie O'Connor. At the four minute mark DePiano scored an unassisted goal. Danvers scored two quick goals before the period ended. Mark Walsh, with assists from Tom Maginnis and Rob Calder, scored on the first shift of the second period. Rob Calder sent DePiano home free for his hat trick soon after Chris Williams took over the net. Danvers counted with a goal in the final seconds of the second period. Frank DePiano scored the winning goal between two more Danvers scores.

Andover 3, Everett 2

In a game with the eventual regular season champions the Bantams lost a heartbreaker 3-2. As the season came to an end, this loss loomed large, as Andover was to finish behind Everett by two points. Andover opened the scoring midway in the first period as Chris O'Reilly regained his scoring touch with an unassisted goal. Everett evened the score with one minute remaining in the first period. They were quick to take the lead at the start of the second period and despite an intense attack and a strong Andover defense, Everett upped the lead to 3-1 at the end of two periods. With three minutes remaining in the third period Andover forced a face-

On Golf Team

Robert Daly of Andover and Terry Ronan of North Andover, both sophomores, have been named to the Bates College golf team.

Last year the team won all of its last nine matches to become Maine state champions. Their first match this year was scheduled for April 13.

off to the left of the Everett goalie. Chris O'Reilly won the face-off and passed to defenseman Dave Tiberii. Dave quickly passed the puck to Frank DePiano at the left of the net and Frank scored the final goal. Chris Williams and Barry Moore played an outstanding game in goal for the best played game of the season.

Andover 8, Stoneham II, 1

Having split its previous games with Stoneham, the Bantams were anxious to win. Rob Calder started the action on his first shift taking a quick pass from Dave Tiberii and unloading an accurate wrist shot past the Stoneham goalie. Barry Moore played shut-out hockey during his stint in the net. Calder opened the scoring again in the second period, this time, on passes from linemates Tom Maginnis and Bryan Curley. DePiano from Maginnis closed out the scoring for the second period.

With Brian Barry in the nets the Bantams went to town, scoring five goals to win decisively. The scorers: Paul Hunt from Chris O'Reilly and Tom Duncan. Frank DePiano from Bryan Curley and Tim Bennett. Dave Tiberii from Mark Walsh. Tom Maginnis from Bryan Curley. A hat trick for Frank DePiano from Tom Maginnis. A very impressive game by defensemen Tom Moon.

Andover 8, Pentucket 2

Turn-about is fair play. The Bantams were frustrated time and time again by a red-hot Pentucket goalie. It seemed they missed a dozen golden opportunities in the first few shifts of the game. As the period came to an end with Pentucket ahead four to zero, the Bantams finally scored. Kenny Banfield passed back to Tom Moon, who walked in from the point and blasted a hard wrist shot between the pads of the Pentucket goalie.

Alas, Andover was not to score again until 37 seconds remained. Mark Walsh dug the puck from the right corner, skated around behind the net, and passed perfectly to Tom Maginnis, who scored quickly, thus setting the tempo for next week's semi-finals.

The Bantams finished the regular season with a record of 14 wins, eight losses and one tie, in their first season of competition in the Bantam B Division II League at the Danvers Twin Rinks. They finished tied for second place and led the league in scoring. Their play this season is a credit to a group of hard working and determined youngsters.

Semi-Finals

Andover 5, Somerville 2

The Bantams played cautiously for the first few minutes of this important game. Frank DePiano was shifted from forward to defense to offset injuries. Chris Williams made several good saves before Chris O'Reilly scored from in close on assists from DePiano and Bryan Curley. With the Bantams short-handed Bill Depper picked up a loose puck at the Somerville blue line, skated in slowly, and wrested a bouncing shot into the far corner for a two goal lead. Somerville scored at the midway mark of the second period.

O'Reilly wasted no time in getting that goal back on a slick pass from the ever present Bill Depper. Somerville scored on a high, hard shot at the two minute mark on a super pass from the ever present Bill Depper. Somerville scored on a high, hard shot at the two minute mark to end the period trailing by one goal. Mark Walsh, fighting off the flu bug, put the icing on the win at the ten minute mark on a super pass from Rob Calder, and again with two minutes remaining on a great pass from Bryan Curley.

This was another outstanding team effort by the Bantams as Tom Moon continued to excel on defense. Both Frank DePiano and Eddie O'Connor had goals disallowed by the referees. Bennett, Duncan and Hunt played a strong defensive game along with impressive play by Tom Maginnis in penalty situations.

Farnham Player Of Week

Mark Farnham, a junior defenseman from Andover, has been named Ivy Player of the Week for his outstanding performance against Yale last Saturday.

Farnham, who was selected to the All-Ivy League football team as a wide receiver last fall, led an aggressive Bruin defense which effectively shut down several of Yale's high scoring attackmen and kept the Elis at bay all afternoon.

Retreads, Warriors Take Volleyball Crowns

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 19, 1979

The Department of Community Services held the finals of its annual Volleyball Tournament last Tuesday evening at West Junior High and the High School.

In the men's division, the Retreads — representing Andover's Faith Lutheran Church — made their fourth trip to the finals in as many years, and for the second year in a row came from behind to take the men's championship. Led by Gerard Loerckel and Dave Penkus, the Retreads came from within the losers bracket to hand the heavily favored No Names their first loss in the double elimination tournament. Forced into a sudden death final round match, Bill Winship's No Names had difficulty regrouping after their loss and fell victim in straight games to an inspired Retread squad.

In the co-ed division finals, coach Alex Palmer's Warriors easily defeated Bob Sedgewick's Bullets in their best-of-five series. Led by the spiking of Palmer and Al Eggert, plus the setting up of Diane Chadwell and Ilene Spire, the Warriors overwhelmed their opponents and went on to take their first volleyball crown.

Members of each winning team were as follows:

Retreads — Men's Division Champions — Kevin Hunt, Jim Foltz, Glenn Krabec, Dennis Krause, Dave Penkus, Kerry Weaver, Marty Wirt and Gerard Koerckel.

Warriors — Co-ed Division Champions Chadwell, Diane Chadwell, Ilene Spire, Al — Alex Palmer, Wendy Palmer, Gary Eggert and Sara Eggert.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

Heavy rains dampened the enthusiasm of soccer enthusiasts last weekend and many games have been re-scheduled for a later date. Several teams did brave the elements and the results of their games are as follows:

Under-14 Division

Andover Rams 3,
Swampscott Cyclones, 0

The Rams took the lead in the first half when Steve Carbone broke away from the crowd and successfully assaulted Swampscott's nets. In the second half Andover increased the score to 3-0 when David Collins scored on a beautiful 30-yard direct free kick and Steve Carbone successfully completed a penalty shot. Andover's defensive line denied Swampscott any good shots on their nets throughout the game and the Rams won the points. ESB: Sean Ross and Doug Williams.

Andover Appollos 0
Georgetown S.C. 0

In a game which was cut short 15 minutes due to the heavy downpour neither team were able to score a goal although Andover made several good attempts. The teams split the points and are looking forward to a re-match under sunny skies! ESB: Chris Casey, Alvin Ohlenbusch, Marc Bolan and Patrick McLarney.

Under 12 Division

Andover Hawks 4
Andover Ravens 2

Playing with less than a full complement, the Ravens were the first to score when Fran Sullivan booted in the ball on a pass from Nicky Bates. The Hawks quickly evened it up when Bryan Poisson scored, then took the lead when Bryan Poisson scored again on a pass from Shannon McCabe. In the second half Nicky Bates evened it up for the Ravens on a fine pass from Michael Alden and they kept up the pressure, making several unsuccessful shots on the Hawks nets. Jon Stammers booted in the winning goal for the Hawks and when Glenn Livermore successfully completed a penalty shot, the Hawks won a 4-2 victory. ESB: Shannon McCabe and John Drake (Hawks) as well as Paul Fuchs (Ravens).

Andover Jays 3
Marblehead Hearts 2

The Marblehead Hearts played a strong first half and only excellent goal tending by Lisa Marcella held them to a two goal lead. The spirited Jays came back much stronger in the second half, dominated much of the play, and were able to boot in three goals to win the points. Andover's goals were scored by Lisa Marcella, one on a pass from Christine Philipp, and Cheryll Scarpa on a pass from Saramichelle Sapuppo. ESB: Erica Augello, Robin McHendry and Jennifer Tucker.

Andover Orioles 1 Marblehead Silvers

The Orioles were challenged by a strong Marblehead team who kept up the pressure throughout the game. Marblehead took the lead in the first half and Andover tied it up when Michelle Poisson successfully assaulted Marblehead's nets shortly thereafter. In the second half Marblehead were able to add two additional goals to their score, which won them the victory points. ESB: Susan Oskar and Beth Heydt.

Andover Cardinals 0 Georgetown Strikers 2

Georgetown played very aggressively throughout and goalies Katie D'Urso and Jahna Malitsky found their nets under assault on numerous occasions. Georgetown took the lead with two goals in the first half. They kept up the pressure in the second half but Andover's defensive line worked very hard to get the ball back to midfield and minimize the loss. Their efforts were successful as they held Georgetown to a 2-0 win. ESB: Kathy Kimball and Christine Morey.

Under 10 Division

Andover Tigers 9 Saugus Timbers 0

The Tigers welcomed the Saugus Timbers to Andover and then spent much of the game demonstrating their ability to assault the nets rather successfully. In the first half they booted in six goals (Geoff Bolan scoring three, one on a pass from Peter Trede and one on passes from Booth Kyle and George Philipp; Stephen Redgate scoring three direct). In the second half Geoff Bolan scored again on a pass from Booth Kyle and Stephanie Kirkland scored twice (one a penalty shot). The spirited Timbers were relieved when the game was cut short due to the heavy downpour. ESB: Chris Nelson, Booth Kyle and Peter Trede.

Andover Lions 2 Andover Leopards 0

The Leopards with less than eleven players were challenged by the Lions forward line on many occasions throughout the game and goalie Matthew Alden made some excellent saves. The Lions were able to score once in the first half (Jim Sullivan on a pass from Tim Higgins) and again in the second half (Sean Murphy on a pass from Jim Sullivan) whilst denying the Leopards any good scoring opportunities. ESB: David Stark, Scott Enroe and Zack Bensley (Lions) as well as John Skillings, Stephen Napolitano and Allen Boucher (Leopards).

Andover Pumas 3 Georgetown F.C. 0

The game remained scoreless at the end of the first half, both teams' defensive lines having worked hard to protect their goal zones. Andover played a brilliant second half, controlled the play much of the time and when nifty footwork enables them to score three goals, they returned home with the victory points. The goals were booted in by Mark Neaves, Chris McAnally on a pass from Eric Jedrzejek and Chris DiClemente on a pass from Steven Mencis. ESB: Eric Yoder and John Pelz.

Andover Barracudas 2 Andover Marlins 7

The Marlins played a very strong first half; their forward line were successful in scoring four goals while their defensive line held the Barracudas to one successful shot on their nets. In the second half, the Marlins booted in three additional goals, again holding the Barracudas to one. The spirited Barracudas played much stronger towards the end of the game and made several good shots on the nets, however, it was much too late and when the whistle blew, the Marlins had won the victory points. Scoring for the Marlins were Caroline Pool (3) on passes from Beth Crawford, Sarah Grecoe and Melissa Morton; Beth Ostrowski (3) and Ellen Byrnes. Susan Clark and Kim Lowe scored for the Barracudas. ESB: Tracy Tarbox and Dawn Fater (Barracudas) as well as Caroline Pool, Beth Ostrowski and Ellen Byrnes (Marlins).

Andover Sharks 1 Andover Stingrays 0

The Stingrays lost a heartbreaker to the sharks. Both teams were evenly matched and the third quarter made the difference when the ball rolled past the outstretched arms of goalie Lori Nelson. Stingray forwards Mary Sartory and Carol Williams succeeded in getting the ball into the Sharks goal zone on numerous occasions, only to have it booted back by a great Shark defense. ESB: Debbie Williams (Stingrays).

Andover Dolphins 1 Gloucester Fishermen 2

The Dolphins with only 8 players on hand played a full complement of Gloucester Fishermen and turned in a praiseworthy performance. They worked hard to control the ball and only allowed Gloucester one goal in the first half. Gloucester scored again in the second half, giving them a 2-0 lead. The Dolphins were awarded a penalty shot successfully completed by Julie Boland, and when Elizabeth Bakulski took a great shot on the Gloucester nets, Andover supporters held their breath, anticipating a tie game. Unfortunately the shot hit the crossbar and when the final whistle blew, Gloucester had won the victory points. ESB: The entire Dolphins line-up.

Raytheon Reports Increase

Raytheon Company has reported a 31.8 percent increase in first quarter net income on a 16.7 percent increase in sales, compared with the first quarter of last year.

Earnings per share rose to $1.38 a share compared with $1.05 a year ago.

In the quarter ended April 1, 1979, Raytheon's net income was $42,991,000 compared with $32,609,000 last year. First quarter sales were $897,698,000 versus $769,426,000 in the same period a year ago.

It was the 26th consecutive quarter in which Raytheon's sales and earnings exceeded those of the comparable quarter of the previous year.

While all business lines grew, electronics again provided the principal thrust. Sales of government equipment and systems, electronic components, and commercial data processing equipment all advanced strongly during the quarter. The company also benefited from higher investment income.

Raytheon's order backlog reached $3.855 billion at the end of the first quarter compared with $3.841 billion a year ago. The U.S. Government-funded portion of the backlog amounted to $1.562 billion. It was $1.357 billion a year ago.

Invasion Of Great Owls

Great gray owls invaded Massachusetts in numbers last winter for the first time since 1890-91, according to Mass Audubon. They were sighted in more than 20 locations in the state.

The birds are native to the far Northwest, with part of the population extending into the northern states along the Rocky Mountain range. Apparently a shortage of small mammals caused the birds to migrate southeastward into New England, where many died of starvation because of the mouse shortage here.

Creative Work On Display

The Department of Community Services' Annual Spring Exhibit on Saturday, April 28 will feature a dance lesson and demonstration by Dolly Nesbit's Line Dancing class at 1:30 p.m.

Exhibits displaying creations from all crafts and practical arts can be viewed between 1 and 3 p.m. in the West Jr. High cafeteria. French Gourmet Cooking, a course that has excited the community for years will be sharing their famous potage and brins de paille throughout the afternoon.

Marlies Zammuto will also be on hand to give new mothers and fathers handy tips on their infants' developmental stages. The annual exhibit allows students who have participated in classes to display the fruits of their labor as well as observing what other classes are all about.

Capybara

The capybara, a 150-pound rodent of South America, resembles a guinea pig, wallows in mud, forms herds, eats grass and aquatic plants, retreats to water for safety and barks like a small dog. Capybaras are hunted for meat and fur. In Venezuela they are raised commercially, the first game ranching for meat in South America, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

No Smoking Classes To Begin

For all smokers who want to quit — and make it stick this time — the American Lung Association of Essex County is sponsoring a unique "freedom from smoking" program beginning May 1 to 29. The six sessions to be held at 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., are designed to help smokers stay off cigarettes permanently.

"Nine out of ten smokers say they want to quit," says Mrs. Barbara G. Flagg, the local Association's Director, "so the Christmas Seal people want to provide all the help we can." The quit-smoking program, developed as a result of three years of intensive research by the American Lung Association, will emphasize mutual support and focus on: health; withdrawal symptoms; coping without cigarettes in all situations; methods of relaxation; exercise; and avoiding gaining weight.

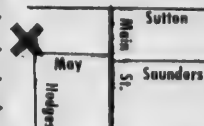

According to Mrs. Flagg, the 1979 Surgeon General's report, with its overwhelming evidence of devastating effects of smoking on health, has triggered an upsurge of interest among smokers in kicking the habit. "We're really pleased to be able to offer our program right now, when smokers are questioning their own behavior, looking for healthier lifestyles," Mrs. Flagg said the group participants will be part of a research study of smoking habits.

Fee for the program is $25 and sessions will take place at Lynn Hospital, 212 Boston St., Lynn. Enrollment is limited; advance registration is required.

Elementary School Happenings

On Thursday, April 26, there will be an elementary string orchestra festival at the Lexington Public Schools. The West Elementary string instrument players, including violins, violas, and cellos are invited. Three nationally and regionally known conductors, including Dr. William Culvor of Michigan, and leading the three levels of orchestra offered.

The festival is partly sponsored, by the Massachusetts Music Education Association. In spite of this, the students will have to pay a small fee to cover the cost of hiring the conductors and planning the festival.

This will be a great opportunity for the students to play in an orchestra of their own level. I'm sure that all of the participants will have fun and learn about an orchestra at the same time.

Two sports writers came to our Newswriting Class on April 4, 1979. One was a male sports writer, Mike Hanlon, and one was a female sports writer, Miss Robin Ramano. Miss Ramano covers the Celtics home games and sometimes she even gets to cover the Patriots. Also she takes pictures and lays out the paper.

Hanlon helps other writers with their stories. He has done photography and also sometimes he edits the paper and puts it together. He is the assistant editor of the Sunday Eagle Tribune. Hanlon and Ramano also do interviewing. We were very fortunate to have them come to our class. It's a very exciting profession!

The Japan Luncheon

On March 28, the sixth grade teachers put on a Japan mini-luncheon. They served rice, raw fish, seaweed, pickles and Japanese Tea. We even used chopsticks.

After the mini-luncheon, there was some entertainment. A group of five children formed a band and played a song called "The Blue Rock." Their names are Bobby Charland, Anne Conron, Nancy Howard, Mark Patty and Tom Rossbach.

Thanks to some of the parents who helped serve the food.

Easter Egg Contest

The fourth graders at Sanborn School are having an Easter Egg Contest. The children chose either a blown egg, a plastic egg, or a styrofoam egg to design and decorate. Their creations are on display in the showcase near the office. Any adult in the building can vote on the entry they like best. Prizes will be awarded on April 12, and they will be given in three categories; most beautiful, most humorous, and most original.

Squirrels

Red squirrels weave a round nest of leaves, twigs and bark twenty inches across with a five-inch room inside. They are the most unsociable of the tree squirrels and venture only about 700 feet from the nest, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

Mrs. Pierson is our new fourth grade teacher at Shawsheen School. She took over for Mrs. Bunn after the February vacation. Before Mrs. Pierson came to Shawsheen School to teach she worked as an aide for the sixth grade at Bancroft School. Mrs. Pierson says it was difficult to take over a class half way through the school year; but now we are all getting used to each other.

Mrs. Pierson lives in Andover and in her spare time at home she likes to do needlepoint, bake, and read.

At Sanborn School our physical education teacher, Mr. Valle, has organized a noon recess hockey league for the fifth and sixth grades. There is a league for the girls and a league for the boys. Altogether there are ten teams.

In the girl's league, B.U. and Harvard are tied for first place, and Kathy Neaves and Lori Freeman are the top goal scorers with five goals each.

In the boy's league the Islanders are the top team. Eric Neymo and Shannon McCabe are the leading scorers. At Sanborn, thanks to Mr. Valle, at noon time recess we may enjoy floor hockey, competition, and have fun.

Attention, fourth graders! Join the recycling contest! You can get more people of Andover to recycle.

To join, you just get signing sheets (they were passed out on March 30). With them, you can go to your neighbors' houses and ask them to sign the sheet. If that family recycles and will continue to do so, you get 5 points. If that family will start to recycle, you get 10 points. In addition to that, you might win a prize.

So, please help Andover to recycle its paper, bottles and caps.

Science Project

The sixth graders of the Andover school system are going to put on a Science Fair. Each sixth grader is supposed to bring in a project such as a motor of some kind, and a report telling about it. All the projects will be put on display in the Fair so the whole school can see them. Many students, as well as adults will be looking forward to the upcoming event.

A Walkathon was held April 1, for F.A.S.T. (Fight for Starvation). Pupils from Andover Schools participated. They started at the East Junior High School and made stops at South School, Sanborn School, St. Robert's West Elementary and Sacred Heart and then finishing at the East Junior High for a total of 20 miles. Most of the students walked the whole 20 miles. It was a long journey for a great cause!

Baroque Concert Sunday

The Music Department of Phillips Academy will present a program of Baroque Chamber Music, played on original instruments, Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Addison Gallery.

Joyce Erickson, recorder, Marcia Mulroney, baroque flute, and Carolyn Skelton, harpsichord, will perform works by Handel, Quantz and Telemann.

Ms. Erickson, a recipient of the Watson Fellowship, has studied with Nickolas Harnoncourt at the Mozarteum in Salzburg. Mrs. Skelton has studied in Vienna with Anton Heiller on a Fulbright Scholarship Grant and holds a master's degree from the New England Conservatory of Music. A finalist in this year's Erwin Bodky Award for Excellence in Early Music, Ms. Mulroney studied baroque flute with Shelley Gruskin and performs frequently in the New York and Boston areas. All three are on the faculty of the Music Department at the Academy.

There is no charge for admission, and the public is invited to attend.

description of the first building site differs from the one described last week by Paul Ferranti, engineering consultant to Cormier. Ferranti said the first section would run from Canterbury to Chandler Circle.

Selectman Norman Gammon said she felt that there may be a motion raised in the town to purchase the golf course from Cormier. She said she had heard that possibility discussed by citizens of the town.

Selectman James Abramson said that if Cormier would reduce the price of the course, the town should study other communities which run municipal golf courses, and measure the feasibility of Andover doing the same.

Madison Hill Upholsterers — 20% Off All Fabrics

Enjoy your favorite furniture pieces for a lifetime by having them recovered and reupholstered by the professionals, Madison Hill, 75 Manchester Street, in the Arlington Mills, Lawrence. Their services are just a phone call away. Just call Madison Hill at 686-7264 and a trained decorator will call at your home with a handsome selection of fabrics. Right now, Madison Hill is offering a special of 20% off all fabrics. Now you can have your chair or sofa reupholstered for less than ever and enjoy it for many, many years to come. When doing your spring cleaning take a good look at your upholstered furniture — you may want to take advantage of this special!

All work is done in their own factory, by their own expert craftsmen. Madison Hill uses only kiln dried hard woods, steel webbing and tempered coil steel springs hand tied with Italian flax coated with latex to increase tensile strength and retard deterioration. Cushions are filled by air pressure; all non-allergenic fuller is used. All fabrics are lock-stitched, edges over locked, and skirts lined with buckram. Patterns are carefully matched to bring out the best in the fabric. Finished pieces are steamed in the shop, so shrinkage is taken out before delivery. The result is a "like new" piece of furniture that is actually better than new because the frame has been rebuilt and strengthened where needed, wood rebuffered to its original lustre, cushions replaced with comfortable new ones, and covered in a top quality fabric. It is a professional job from start to finish. Antique restoration is another specialty of Madison Hill. John Comasso, owner, is an expert on antique restoration and can rebuild any piece of antique furniture with authenticity. Custom made furniture is also made in Madison Hill's own factory. Give them your specifications for traditional, colonial or modern pieces. They also make handsome slipcovers and draperies. Call Madison Hill at 686-7264.

Real Estate

By DOUGLAS N. HOWE

"TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE"

You have agreed to purchase a house or piece of property. You have discussed with the seller the importance of a definite settlement date. Whether the reason is personal or for business, it makes no difference. But if closing is important within a certain time limit, be sure that the phrase, "time is of the essence" is inserted into the sales agreement.

If this key phrase is not included, then either the buyer or seller can delay settlement for a "reasonable" time. What may be reasonable for one party may be unreasonable for the other. At this juncture, it may become a matter for the court to settle.

On the other hand, if you anticipate the need for flexibility, avoid the insertion of the "time is of the essence" limitation. This is just another reason why it is important to discuss the sales agreement with your attorney before you sign your name on the dotted line.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Legislation Would Cost Andover $100,000 A Year

Legislation in the works on Beacon Hill yesterday afternoon could cost Andover $100,000 a year.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said word from Boston was that the legislators were considering a bill to force towns to use their free cash to lower taxes this Presidential Scholars receive no monetary award, but traditionally are invited to Washington, D.C., where they are honored by their elected representatives and educators, including the U.S. Commissioner of Education and the Commission on Presidential Scholars. They do some sight-seeing and attend seminars at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of State, the Capitol, and the Office of Education.

They are awarded special medallions, which commemorate their designation as Scholars by the President of the United States.

Egypt Film Is Featured

A new film by Doug Jones, "Egypt — Gift of the Nile," will be featured at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium. Doors open at 1:30 and there is no admission charge.

From the grandeur of the Pyramids to the Minarets of the Cairo mosques, you'll be transported back to the land of mystery that has fascinated archaeologists, historians and travelers for thousands of years.

Among the topics covered, are The Nile, Egypt's source of life; the Pyramids, Sakkara, the Step Pyramid and the Sphinx; life in ancient Egypt and more.

Clark said he felt it was another attempt to force local communities to keep the governor's campaign promise.

Using Andover's free cash could lower the tax rate by about $4 this year. However, Clark said what would appear to be a windfall this year means that "all of us will be paying more each year hereafter."

Andover's certified free cash averages about $1.5 million a year, Clark explained, and is used to pay town expenses while waiting for the tax checks to roll in every six months. If that money isn't there, he said, Andover will have to borrow at least $1 million a year to pay its bills. Interest on that million, he said, would cost about $55,000 each year.

Furthermore, he said, the town would lose at least a portion of the interest now earned on its free cash, or somewhere in the area of $45,000.

At present, the town earns about $225,-

000 in interest each year, and the interest income is applied annually to reduce taxes.

cing it to operate in the red. While some towns do so, he said, Andover has not in many, many years.

Once gone, he said, the surplus is gone forever.

Rep. Cohen Succeeds

As the TOWNSMAN went to press, State Rep. Gerald Cohen, chairman of the Taxation Committee, said the free cash legislation had passed the Conference Committee.

However, he said, he had successfully added a provision that town meeting can, by a two-thirds vote, override the legislation and maintain its free cash position.

Clark said the legislative action would damage the town's financial position, for-
